

Daily Conscience Examination

---

God longs for us to experience life abundantly, joyfully. He knows this will happen when we live our lives lovingly.

We are human. We don't always meet the challenge to live lovingly.

In what ways am I struggling to love? If I share these ways in the sacrament of Reconciliation, I am given the grace to be more loving, and to thus have life more abundantly, joyfully.

Can I give, say, 10 minutes of my day to God in prayer? Can I come to him in the busyness of life, saying "I come here because amidst all this, I am Yours"? Can we ask that "amidst all this," He helps us reflect the fact that we are His?

In this 10 (or however many) minutes, we should review our day. What people traveled through our life today? In what ways did we respond lovingly? In what ways did we fail to respond lovingly? Jot these down. Thank God for the graces. Ask God for help with the struggles.

Review today's jottings. Can we see His love, despite our various failures? His love never stops. He is calling us.

When it comes time for Reconciliation, review everything we have written for this period since last Reconciliation. His love never stops. What do I need to bring to Reconciliation, that I might receive the grace to better reflect that love to the world, and to experience abundant joy?

The tools below are idea starters for ways we might have been unloving in a day. These tools need not be used. Or they need not be used every day. They are idea starters. They are not the right tools nor the only tools. They are simply intended to help in this dialogue that says to God, "I want to be what you want me to be. I want to love. I want to know the joy of love."

A Tool to Help Children

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed by Thy name.

How often do I think about God?

How often do I say my prayers?

Do I pay attention and participate at Mass?

Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Am I kind to others?

Do I do what Jesus wants me to do?

Do I share with others?

Am I helpful to my family and neighbors?

Do I show respect to my teachers and classmates?

Give us this day our daily bread.

Do I remember to say thank you?

Am I sometimes greedy?

Do I appreciate the good things I have in my life?

Do I think of ways to help those who have no food, clothes, shelter or money? Do I take things that don't belong to me?

Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us.

Do I say I'm sorry when I have been wrong?

Do I forgive and forget when someone does something bad to me?

Do I help solve problems between my friends or do I cause more trouble? Do I say bad things about people who have hurt me?

Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

Do I play fairly in sports and games?

Do I cheat in school?

Do I tell the truth?

Do I let other kids tempt me to do things I know I shouldn't do? Do I tempt others?

1.3 Reconciliation by Appointment

Priests are also happy to meet with you for Reconciliation via private appointment.

And, something to consider is asking a priest to be an advisor, meeting with him periodically for spiritual advice and Reconciliation. An analogy here are the coaches of, say, Olympic athletes. It is wise to have a physical coach if you want to be as good as you can be at an athletic event. This also holds true if you want to be all you can be spiritually.
